RE: Tar Sands Exploration in Water Canyon
EXP/007/016 +017
Carbon County, Utah

Dear Tom:

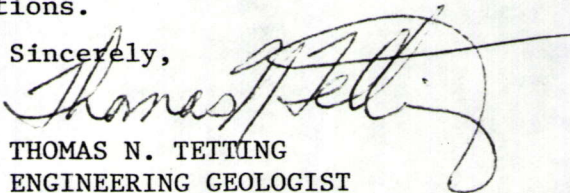

It was good to meet you on site the first of October and hear of your daughter's spectacular wedding. I was also pleased to observe your operations. I do, however, have a request to make. I am concerned about the various changes that may occur in the original exploration plan.

Originally you were not going to disturb what we may now call the lower access road and loadout area; neither was the tramway to be disturbed. As usual though, plans do necessitate changing and I would like to have on file any proposed alterations. Therefore, would you draw up a list of plans and include the changes? I would like to remind you that you are operating on a two-acre disturbance limit and we shall have to ascertain whether or not the additional disturbances (including access to the top of the tar sands cliff) will necessitate the filing of a mine plan.

If you would care to deliver the plans in person we would be able to discuss any possible legal ramifications caused by possible destruction of the tramway.

Additionally, I would ask a favor of you. We have misplaced a copy of the exploration permit letter I sent you. Do you have an extra copy? Please call me if you have any questions.

Sincerely,

THOMAS N. TETTING
ENGINEERING GEOLOGIST
